

Editor's Comment:

After reviewing the original article submitted and the comments of three reviewers, it was realized that the 'Diamondback Moth' has effects on crop production that interfere with food productivity. Major improvements and chromatograms were included to improve the work. However, the global extent of the problems caused by this insect could have added value. Yet, the article is in the state of publication and therefore recommended for finalization and publication.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Miraji Hossein
University of Dodoma, Tanzania.