

Editor's Comment:

This interesting and useful manuscript was read by two reviewers who shared their reasoned opinions. The author took their comments into account and seriously corrected the manuscript. I think this article can be published after some minor improvements.

Page 2, paragraph 3. Write "no research has been conducted" instead of "no research have been conducted".

Page 3, Material and methods. Write "flooded Petri dish method" instead of "flooded petri dish method": use a capital letter for Petri because it is the name of a microbiologist (Julius Richard Petri, 1852-1921)

Page 5. Use italics to write Diffugiaglobulosa. In general, check that genus and species names are written in italics.

Pages 8, 9, 10, plates 1, 2, 3. Add a scale bar on each image. References

Check the reference in order to present them according to the journal's standards. Look at the website: <https://journalarrb.com/index.php/ARRB/about/submissions>

Use italics to write genus and species names. Examples for the two first references:

Write:
