Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This is very important, especially the attitude section because if a person has a positive attitude towards any topic, especially cardiovascular disease prevention, he/she will definitely seek information to practice in his/her daily life	Preventing cardiovascular disease (CVD) among young people is crucial as it helps establish healthy habits early, reducing long-term risk. Authors stress that addressing lifestyle factors like diet, exercise, and smoking during youth can significantly lower the likelihood of CVD in adulthood. This proactive approach not only improves individual health outcomes but also decreases the overall societal and economic burden of chronic diseases. Promoting awareness and prevention in young populations ensures a healthier future generation.
